

I scrub the dishes for my parents to let me go out this weekend. Shhh, don't say anything!

Time to relax. While watching TV, I sometimes finish feel like sleeping a little 'siesta' (typical Spanish...)

Usually, I go out with my friends in the afternoon. Sometimes, there're like 20 people! We don't do anything special. Just seat and tell stupid things.

But later, there are less people, and sometimes, we have a walk by the seaside.

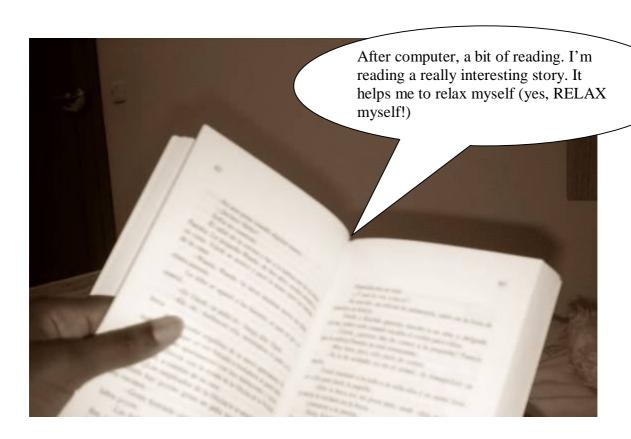

After coming back home, it's time to study a

After coming back home, it's time to study a little bit, or doing homework. It's the worst thing, my gosh, I hate it! But... I try to be a good student (yes, I TRY, though sometimes laziness is stronger than me!) So, whenever I can, I do my homework.

Then, alter homework, it's time to relax again. My life is a continuous relaxation, as you can see... I love using computers, so much, that sometimes I can't control myself! It's ADDICTIVE!

Dinner time. It tastes really delicious, though it doesn't seem! You should try it someday, it won't disappoint you, I promise!

I have to prepare my school bag. Sometimes, it's really heavy, but...spinaches make me stronger! (like 'Popeye'! LOL!)

And finally, after having dinner, I have to go to bed. Normally, I'm really tired, so I fall asleep quickly. And... that's it! That's a normal day in a student's life. Not so interesting, isn't it? Haha.

Education and Culture Lifelong learning programme COMENIUS

Visit to Bulgaria

From 18th to 23rd of November, 2008, 120 G. S Rakovsky School in Sofia hosted the first meeting of the countries, participating in the project. The main activities were governed by the motto of the meeting, "My city – my region", aiming at introducing the guest members to the cultural, historical and natural places of interest of Bulgaria's capital city, Sofia. The host school organized a tour round the city with visits to the Alexander Nevsky Cathedral, St. George's Church, the Mosque, the Synagogue, and the National Theatre Ivan Vazov.

There was organized a special evening, dedicated to the Bulgarian traditions and cuisine, which took place on the school premises. The hosts had cooked typical Bulgarian specialties. The meal was enhanced by listening to Bulgarian folk music and dancing Bulgarian folk dances, immensely enjoyed by both guests and hosts. The Bulgarians invited their guests from Germany, Poland and Italy to a traditional Bulgarian dinner with their families.

The foreign participants had the chance to attend the School Festival of the Friends of Nature. The students of G. S. Rakovsky School have always enjoyed this special occasion, preparing for it with a lot of energy and enthusiasm. The opening ceremony was honoured by some very special guests, among which was the Minister of Environment and Water, the Mayor of Lozenez Region of Sofia, the Head of Sofia's Education Inspectorate, and representatives of the Bulgarian Ministry of Education, Youth and Sciences. The students were divided into groups and sent to different workshops, where they had to work with natural materials, watch films about nature and environment. Divided in 5 groups the students from Germany, Poland ,Italy and Bulgaria worked out together miniature paper models of famous Bulgarian historical and cultural monuments. They made models of the Baba Vida Tower in Vidin, The Mediaeval Tower in Kula, Orpheus' Shrine in Tatul, the Ethnological Complex in Zlatograd, the Patriarch's Residence in Tsarevets, Veliko Turnovo, etc. Working on the models turned out to be something very enjoyable and creative and after they were ready, the children put them on display, took pictures of them and they were later included in the school exhibition.

Part of the program of the visiting students was an excursion to Plovdiv. They were taken for a walk round The City of the Seven Hills, which included a visit to the Old Part of the town, which has been proclaimed an archaeological heritage site. The guests also paid a visit to the Historical Museum, the Ethnographical Museum, the antique amphitheatre, and some other cultural sights. They were enchanted by the romantic atmosphere of the cobbled streets, the beautiful complex of old houses, reminiscent of the once picturesque and colorful lifestyle of the residents of Plovdiv.

The trip to the National Park Vitosha was also very exciting. A day surrounded by the unique beauty and the spell of the mountain was a genuine pleasure for both teachers and students.

The group visited the amazing natural phenomenon The Golden Bridges (The Stone River – huge boulders running down the mountain side), the National Historical Museum, The Boyana Church and the Dragalevtsi Monastery – all of them unique national heritage sites.

At a special workshop within the program of this first international meeting the teams made presentations of their schools and towns. They were presented electronically and on paper and later put in special places in all the schools.

May 13, 2009:

After the official welcome ceremony, the groups of Italy and Poland took part in an excursion to Stuttgart-Zuffenhausen. They visited the new Porsche museum in order to get some information about the industrial region of Stuttgart. The car industry is one of the most important employers and provides work for thousands of people around Stuttgart. The group was given explanations by audio-guides. The history of the cars was connected to regional historical events. After a first impression of the industrial area around Stuttgart the guests moved on to Stuttgart where they could get an impression of the historical centre of the city, the shopping malls and the infrastructure. Of course the participants also had an opportunity of trying typical Swabian food of the region.

On the same day the groups from Bulgaria, Spain and Turkey arrived.

May 14, 2009:

All participating students and teachers met at school. German students prepared quizzes and games for foreign students. After the welcome of the new guests students and teachers of all nations went to Ludwigsburg and visited the famous castle. An English speaking guide gave information on the local history of the city and the castle. In the afternoon the group visited the Löwentormuseum – a museum which provides information on ancient animals and plants of the Jurassic period.

May 15, 2009:

The day started with quizzes and games of regional history and geography for students. Afterwards students and teachers of all nations took part in English lessons. Students and teachers exchanged ideas about teaching methods and curricula. Students had the opportunity of interviewing their foreign guests. They got information on family life, national curricula, lessons,... In the afternoon there was a presentation of each participating country. Parents, students, teachers and the mayor of the community were invited to listen to the students' presentations. All presentations were about the history and geography of each country. In addition the countries presented local recipes and explained how to prepare typical regional food.

In the afternoon the international guests were welcomed by the Roland Zeller, the mayor of the community of Tamm. Students, teachers and parents were invited to join a common welcome party. The parents of the German students also prepared cakes and coffee.

In the evening all participating countries were invited to a school musical which was performed by more than 200 German students. It was called "The green Witch of Oz". Every foreign visitor was given an English translation of the musical. The music was performed by a band of ancient students of the school. Also there was a choir and numerous students involved in the performance as actors.

May 16, 2009

Students stayed with their hosts and got to know the German families. They visited regional attractions and met for a common barbecue with parents and other students. Teachers were offered different sightseeing programmes by German colleagues. There was a city tour in Bietigheim, a visit to the zoo Wilhelma, a visit to Stuttgart and a trip to the Black Forest.

In the evening there was a common dinner with all colleagues. Typical Swabian food was offered and the teachers had the possibility to exchange ideas about the project work.

May 17, 2009:

Students spent the day with the families. They visited sights in the surrounding and joined other groups of teens to have common activities.

The teachers went on a trip to Gundelsheim. In the morning there was a lesson on chocolate production where teachers also had the possibility to try different kinds of chocolate produced in the region. After a boat trip on the river Neckar the group visited the medieval town of Bad Wimpfen. There was a guided tour through the town explaining important historical facts.

May 18, 2009

(departure of Bulgaria)

This was the day of school activities. Students and teachers met in the school kitchen. The countries had already prepared regional recipes in English language which the brought to the meeting. Every participating student took part in an international cooking activity in national or mixed groups. Before starting all ingredients were bought in a German supermarket. Then each team started cooking – teachers and students worked together. The international teams decorated and presented their meals on a big table. Afterwards teachers, students and the mayor were invited to taste food of each participating country. The students and teachers enjoyed this international activity very much and were surprised about the excellent quality of all meals.

The evaluation of the different meals was quite difficult as all the meals were very delicious. Therefore the students and teachers decided that every nation was a winning team. In the afternoon some students presented local dances and music.

In the evening the teachers met in a colleague's house to have dinner, to communicate and to sing and enjoy songs of different countries.

May 19, 2009

(departure of Italy and Poland)

The Spanish and the Turkish delegations visited the Mercedes-Benz museum in order to get informed about the invention and the development of the automobile. The exposed cars were also linked to historical events of Germany and the world. Every visitor had an audio guide to get information in different languages. In the afternoon the group visited Stuttgart, the capital of Baden-Württemberg. After a sightseeing tour through the city of Stuttgart the groups returned to school. In the evening everyone got prepared for the departure.

After the meeting several articles were written by students and teachers and published in the local news and on the homepage of our school. The feedback of the participating teachers, students and parents and official guests was very positive. After the meeting many students intensified their contacts to foreign friends.
