

Tasks for Friday 27th .

Cheer up!!, another week is almost over!

We don't know if you need some more practice on passive transformations, so just in case, here you are.

Nice weekend, everybody ! But stay at home.

Change these sentences into passive or active voice.

The sentences marked with * may be transformed into two different ways.

1. Journalists think that Michael Owen will be sold to an Italian club next season.
2. The UN has said that the authorities should demolish the wall.
The UN has said that.....
3. England captain was said to be upset.
4. If you buy three items , they may offer you a discount. *
5. Before the wedding a beautician will do her nails.
6. How many wallets were stolen by the pickpocket?
7. We expect William and Kate to make an announcement later today. *
8. Authorities have banned certain commercials because of their content.
9. The paparazzis alleged Posh screamed at her husband.*
10. Somebody had already shown me how to use the new machine.
11. Some teachers are going to be interviewed for the school magazine
12. The lawyer has given us the details of the will .*
13. People claim that he left the country two months ago. *
14. Many people have been said to be homeless after the floods.
15. Do they make these artificial flowers?
16. That referee needs to test his eyes.
17. British doctors believe that one in six children started smoking before turning 12 . *
18. We can't do anything unless we are provided more information.
19. Someone waters the plants for them while they are away.
20. The local government is building two houses for orphans and homeless people.