

Hi there!

I hope you and your families are coping as well as you can with these terrible days and everyone of you is safe and sound.

I haven't been well for a while (not Coronavirus) but have recovered now. It will take some courage for us to keep calm, with everything that is going on.

I wonder how you are doing, organising your time. You will probably find that you have the time, but it is extremely hard to concentrate, right? I fully understand.

Ian was sent home to the US, with all other Fulbrighters, where he is in self quarantine, but he is alright so far. We will get in touch with him once some issues have been sorted out.

Nothing can be planned, we will deal with things as they come up.

Please stay safe, stay at home and I never thought I'd say this but don't get close to your grandparents.

Take care, keep your chin up.

Mónica.
