Everyday English expressions in class

Aims

1. Improvement of basic language communication skills.

   Skills to be developed:
   - Oral production
   - Listening perception
   - Interactive conversation

2. Awareness of the importance of proper intonation.

3. Understanding of the pace and rhythm of English speech.

Methodology

1. Use “everyday expressions” in casual classroom communication.

2. Compare intonation and natural English speech.
TEACHER

These expressions are meant to be said naturally and accompanied, if possible, by gestures.

The teacher pronunciation should be clear, with the proper pace and rhythm to be understood.

Intonation should follow the natural English speech, according to the emphasis of words. The emphasis or stress is the extra force that you give to a word of part of a word when you are pronouncing it.

These expressions have to be used in an actual context, not in a contrived one. Based on this principle, both listening and speaking activities are part of a comprehensible system.

Most of the time, in order to be understood you have to change the expressions right in the moment. In this case, some tricks are:

- Tell a synonym. Take this “handout” = paper / copy.
- When explaining opposites give examples: Low / High, Loud / soft, Long / short.
- Definitions. To clap: to hit both hands together
- Use body language. Thumbs up for “right”
- Use a “familiar association” or symbolism.

All the expressions are classified as it follows:

1. Greetings and farewells.
2. Spontaneous reactions
3. Getting their attention.
4. Telling them to do sth.
5. Encouraging expressions
6. Organising contents, time and places.
7. Showing sympathy
8. Checking their understanding

STUDENT

These expressions are meant to give confidence to the student's communication skills. As a result, expressions should be encouraged within their classroom relationships.

One way to stop yourself translating and therefore increase your speed of comprehension and production is to learn all your vocabulary without the use of your own language.

Accuracy is something to be expected later on, in the meantime intention and will come first.

The most common student's expressions are classified as follow:

1. Greetings and farewells
2. Spontaneous reactions
3. Asking for permission
4. Asking for help
Greetings and farewells.

English intonation table

Student's task: Try to guess the expressions after listening to the intonation audio file. The written expressions in the first column are not in the correct order. The student has to figure out their actual position. They should also decide whether the intonation is higher (H) or lower (L) pitch.

The “actual sounds” audio file are meant to check student's answers.

Fill in the “actual sounds” gap writing the expressions in the correct order.
