

OCTOBER

4th October - Animal Day

Animal day is celebrated to honour animal life and all its forms, the humankind's relations with the animal kingdom and the way animals help humans all over the world.

It is intended as a day of celebration for anyone in the world who cares about animals. It is not restricted just to one nationality, creed, religion, political belief or ideology.

World Animal Day is not linked to any one individual, organisation or campaign, but belongs to everyone.
