hello there!

Thank you so much for supporting Little Lifelong Learners!

My name is Casey and I'm an early years teacher turned stay at home mum to three little learners of my own. I am so passionate about learning through play.

I love nothing more than setting up a beautiful invitation to play while supporting a child's innate desire to learn about the world around them. Creating long-lasting memories of play is truly magical!

As a play advocate, I am absolutely thrilled to share my play-based resources to make learning fun. I aim to close the gap between a jam-packed curriculum and a love for hands on learning experiences and learning through play.

I absolutely love it when you share photos of your little learners using my resources – don't forget to tag me @littlifelonglearners and use my #littlifelonglearners hashtag on social media.

Happy playful learning!

Casey

WHAT'S THE WEATHER?

Explore the different types of weather we can experience with these super simple and engaging mini booklets! This free pack includes THREE variations which can be differentiated to suit the needs of your own little learners.

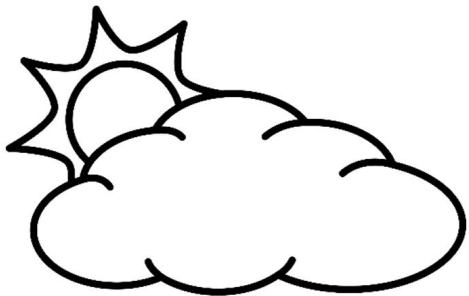

Simply print off the most appropriate page and have your little learner read the text using the images to support their reading. Your little learner can then colour the pictures and/or fill in the blanks and then cut along the lines. Staple the pages together to create a mini science booklet.

These books are a wonderful assessment tool to check key understandings for Earth and Space strand of the Foundational Year Science Curriculum.
