WRITTEN MEDIATION

You have 20 minutes to complete this task.

TOPIC: WORK AUTOMATION

You work for the Department of Labor and Employment (DLE). Your latest assignment involves dealing with the impact of work automation. You are handling abundant data on the issue, including a chart and an extract from a report.

Despite the perception that new innovations in robotics and automation may be a threat to the workforce, many experts expect that over time robotics are likely to create at least as many new jobs as they take. A look at the last hundred years provides a reasonable guide. While societies will likely face some disruption in the short term, governments who are successful in training and preparing their workforce, should be well positioned to turn the challenges into opportunities.
