Reading 1: There We Go!

Some Irish students are not sure about walking the Saint James Way, so you and your classmates decide to show them some posts from a blog titled 'There We Go!' where other teenagers from different countries talk about their experiences.

George: Hey everyone! I'm not religious, but doing the Camino de Santiago has been one of the best adventures of my life. 😊 I love seeing new places, but I can't usually travel because it is quite expensive and my parents can't afford it. However, with this experience I had the opportunity to visit many breathtaking places at a low cost and with my friends!

Ann: I was very stressed with exams and all the busy things happening around me, but walking the Way helped me meet people from all around the world. I even realised that I wasn't checking my phone or social media constantly! I felt really happy with all that peace, it wasn't boring at all! Now, I appreciate peace and quiet more, and I'm way happier. It's been a good learning experience.

John: For me it was an experience of a lifetime: I was able to meet new people and get to know new places, but the truth is that I also had a bad time. In the hostels it was difficult to sleep at night because of the noise and many times there was not enough hot water for everybody to shower. Not sure I'd do it again!

Helen: When my parents told me they had planned the Camino for all of us, I was having a difficult time and I wasn't so sure about the idea. Last year, highschool was a little bit challenging for me. I was about to give up the walking, but I met many people going through bad times and talking about it all seemed to help us. I also met a very special person! I met my best friend. I love her! ❤️ There is always a light at the end of the tunnel!

Linda: My only advice would be to prepare yourself before: train your physical condition if you can and learn how to heal your wounds! It is an exhausting journey, walking for such a long time is really hard. I ended up very tired and with a lot of pain in my feet. I would do it again, but I would choose a shorter route. In the end, this trip really changes you, you become a new person. I'm a very spiritual person, believing makes me feel better!
